

Informing Families

Building Trust

A Partnership for Better Communication on Developmental Disabilities Issues

Individual & Family Services (IFS) Program: New Podcast Details What It's About

Last year, the Washington State Legislature passed the Individual and Family Services act which resulted in $4.9 million to serve nearly 1,300 additional families by the end of June 2009.

The Informing Families/Building Trust project's newest podcast tells you what you need to know about this new program.

In addition to the information about the new program, the podcast also provides information on the Home Care Quality Authority's Referral Registry. If you are receiving Medicaid-funded services, the registry can provide you a list of providers who might meet your family's needs.

You can view the podcast at:

www.olympiainsider.org

A flyer that discusses the Individual and Family Services Program is on the Informing Families/Building Trust website located at:

www.informingfamilies.org

IFS Program Podcast Highlights

Sue Elliott interviews Debbie Couch, DDD Program Manager, about the Individual and Family Services Program

Ed Holen interviews Sherri Wills-Green of the Home Care Quality Authority about the Home Care Referral Registry